MONEY AVAILABLE TO SUPPORT STEM PROJECTS
Educators can apply for up to $1000

*With support from the Alcoa Foundation, the Female Alliance for STEM Excellence (FASE) is pleased to announce the 2014 FASE STEM Mini Grants!

The 2014 FASE STEM Mini Grants are designed to recognize and support excellence in STEM education by providing funds to enhance STEM projects geared toward elementary, middle school, and/or high school girls.

Educators (formal and informal) can apply for up to $1,000 of financial support to provide resources for new and/or existing STEM initiatives.

Information about the FASE STEM Mini Grant program including application materials is available on the FASE website: <http://fa-se.org/2014/01/2014-fase-stem-mini-grants/>.

Deadline for submission is 4 PM on February 13, 2014.

About FASE: FASE is an alliance of business, education and community representatives encouraging excellence in STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math) – with a focus on women and girls.

FASE Mission: To initiate, coordinate, monitor, and advocate action to increase the participation of girls and women in STEM.

FASE Vision: Educational environments, careers, and communities where girls and boys are equally engaged in STEM subjects, occupations, and activities.
